AGORACOM Launches "Investor Controlled Discussion Forum" for Afri-Can Marine Minerals Investors in Response to Epidemic Bashing and Spam

TORONTO, ONTARIO--(Marketwire - Oct. 12, 2007) - AGORACOM (<http://www.agoracom.com>) is pleased to announce the launch of an "Investor Controlled Discussion Forum" for investors of Afri-Can Marine Minerals (TSX VENTURE:AFA) at <http://www.agoracom.com/ir/Afri-Can> , as well as, the appointment of both "shifty5" and "Crowlee" as HUB Leaders.

WHAT ARE INVESTOR CONTROLLED DISCUSSION FORUMS?

In response to epidemic levels of spam, stock bashing and profanity on stock forums around the web, AGORACOM launched Investor Controlled Discussion Forums for the purpose of handing control back to small-cap investors. Specifically, control over offending posts, offending members and company information.

Based on a democratic voting and activity system, investors of every small-cap stock are able to appoint HUB Leaders to exercise the following controls with just one-click:

- Delete offending posts containing spam, profanity and stock bashing
- Delete offending members that continue to post offending messages
- Update company information such as corporate profiles, management bio's, company photos and videos, logos, outstanding shares and more.

As a result, investors are able to amalgamate, communicate, share market intelligence and exchange investment opinions in a clean and constructive environment, leading to the best investment decision possible. Testimonials from newly registered members can be seen at <http://del.icio.us/AGORACOM/AgoracomTestimonials>.

AGORACOM launched its paradigm shifting model on October 5th, 2007 and reports that over 100 HUBS have already been launched. Investors of companies not yet on AGORACOM can request a HUB at: http://www.agoracom.com/hub_requests/new.
